

The list below was translated by Angelo Ingrao on March 6, 2005 (*)
+ this is from → Page 68 → of the 1995 Giusti & Proetti book "Fototerapia e Simbolismo"

1. Three things that you like about this picture
2. What is most visible and obvious in this image
3. How would describe this picture to someone that cannot see it
4. Three things that nobody would be able to understand about you in this picture
5. The name of this picture
6. The message expressed in this image
7. The secret of this picture
8. Three things that this picture needs
9. Three sensations or feelings that this photo incites
10. Is there something missing in this photo? If yes, what?
11. Who or what does this photo remind you of?
12. Looking at this picture, it seems that it has been taken especially for ... (specify the person)
13. Three ways in which this picture reflects or doesn't reflect your typical way of being.
14. If this photo (or the person in the photo) could talk, what would he say?
15. If this photo could become reality and move, what would it do?
16. What would like to ask this picture if you could? What would you like to know?
17. What would you like to tell this picture? What would you like to let it know?
18. What would you like to change in this picture?
19. If you could give it to someone, you would give it to ...
20. On the contrary, you would never give it to...
21. If your parents or your friends etc., could see this photo, how would they react?
22. If you were the therapist of the person of the picture, what perceptions would you have of your client? And which questions would you ask him?

(*) Note that at the time Angelo did these translations, he had not yet been told any reasons why he was being asked to translate. He did the translating, received payment for his work and then asked what this was for. It was only at that time that he found out about the plagiarism suspicions.

PLEASE NOW COMPARE THE LIST ABOVE (FROM 1995 G. & P. BOOK) WITH THE ENGLISH LIST ON PAGE 184-185 OF WEISER'S 1993 BOOK "PHOTOTHERAPY TECHNIQUES" AND COME TO YOUR OWN CONCLUSIONS...